for serving as our host sponsor.*

This two-day, virtual conference will reinvigorate our NATHPO membership and allies. NATHPO has quietly been undergoing a metamorphosis under new leadership and the dedicated NATHPO Board of Directors. After two long years without a conference due to unforeseeable events, we come together, safely, once again. Prepare to be inspired as we celebrate the NEW NATHPO and its redefined dedication to you – grounded in improved engagement, member services, and partnerships. Thank you for joining us to collaborate on impactful solutions-focused programming for 2021. Stay tuned for virtual workshops and continuing improvements throughout 2021 to support your efforts in

PROTECTING NATIVE PLACES

21st National Tribal Preservation Conference

Resilience in a Changing Environment

NATHPO
National Association of Tribal Historic Preservation
Officers

Through unity, we find strength. The NATHPO conference is the only national gathering of tribal, federal, state, and industry representatives committed to protecting tribally important places. The conference is a keystone of NATHPO's work to empower tribal preservation leaders to protect culturally important places that perpetuate Native identity, resilience, and cultural endurance. Connections to cultural heritage sustain the health and vitality of Native peoples.

The theme "Resilience in a Changing Environment" has two-fold significance, reflecting the growing challenges faced by tribal historic preservation leaders in adapting to and mitigating impacts to significant places from both a changing global climate and an altered political landscape. If our greatest opportunities come from our greatest challenges, how can we use this time to improve outcomes for tribal historic preservation?

The Coushatta Tribe of Louisiana is proud to host the NATHPO 2021 Virtual Conference.

Resilience in a Changing Environment

About NATHPO National Association of Tribal Historic Preservation Officers

Founded in 1998, NATHPO is a non-profit membership organization that supports and encourages tribal historic preservation programs. We provide guidance to preservation officials, elected representatives, and the public about national historic preservation legislation, policies, and regulations. We promote tribal sovereignty, develop partnerships, and advocate for Tribes in governmental activities on preservation issues.

NATHPO is guided by three main principles:

- Tribal Sovereignty – the inherent right of Indian Nations to self-government
- Confidentiality – recognition of the need to respect the confidentiality of information regarding Native cultural and ceremonial practices and places of religious or cultural significance.
- No boundaries – NATHPO recognizes that the cultural and heritage preservation interests of Indian Nations and their peoples often extend far beyond the boundaries of present-day reservations -- often crossing state and national boundaries -- and stands ready to assist in activities relating to transboundary cultural and environmental issues.

Listening Session – Serving Your Needs

NATHPO Board, Staff Team & YOU

Your voice is important and together, our voices will be heard.

We are here for you, let's talk about what you need.

- Topic 1: What have you always relied on NATHPO for? What are our strengths?
- Topic 2: What else do you need? (focus on everyday things needed)
- Topic 3: Wish list – if anything were possible within the scope of NATHPO, what would be on your wish list? (e.g. law & policy changes, and big picture shifts to strengthen & rebuild foundations of culture)

Have a great evening and we'll see you tomorrow!
